Messenger Gadget Screenshots: Messenger Gadget Review: Installation: 1.1 The installation process for Messenger Gadget is very easy. It's even easier to use than any other standard Windows Live Messenger gadget. It's only available if your Windows Live Messenger account is already downloaded to your computer. The program only runs if you're logged in to it and is automatically installed when you restart your computer.

Setup: 1.2 Messenger Gadget is easy to set up. Once your Windows Live Messenger account is downloaded, Messenger Gadget runs automatically, but you can check on it to make sure the program is running. The program offers seven colors to use in your Windows Live Messenger contacts: pink, red, blue, yellow, orange, green and white.

Interface: 1.3 Messenger Gadget is a very small frame (1x9 pixels) that fits anywhere on your desktop, but it can be moved. Once you decide on where to put the frame, it displays a frame icon and holds your updated status. The frame has a close button on its top right corner to close it, or you can use the space to click on a menu that offers a few simple options: 1) Change skin color, 2) Hone typeface, and 3) Change background color to match your desktop.

Gadgets: 1.4 All Windows Live Messenger gadgets are available for Messenger Gadget to use. You can access them by right clicking in the area around the gadget frame and click on the Small icon.

Controls: 1.5 Most of the advanced settings are under the "Options" area. A left-click in the space allows you to change the frame color. A right-click will bring up the "Options" dialog box. From there, you can select the skin color, font size, background color, and popup notify color. You can also choose if you want the application to start in a minimized or hidden window.
